

Dugong and Seagrass Conservation Project Newsletter #2

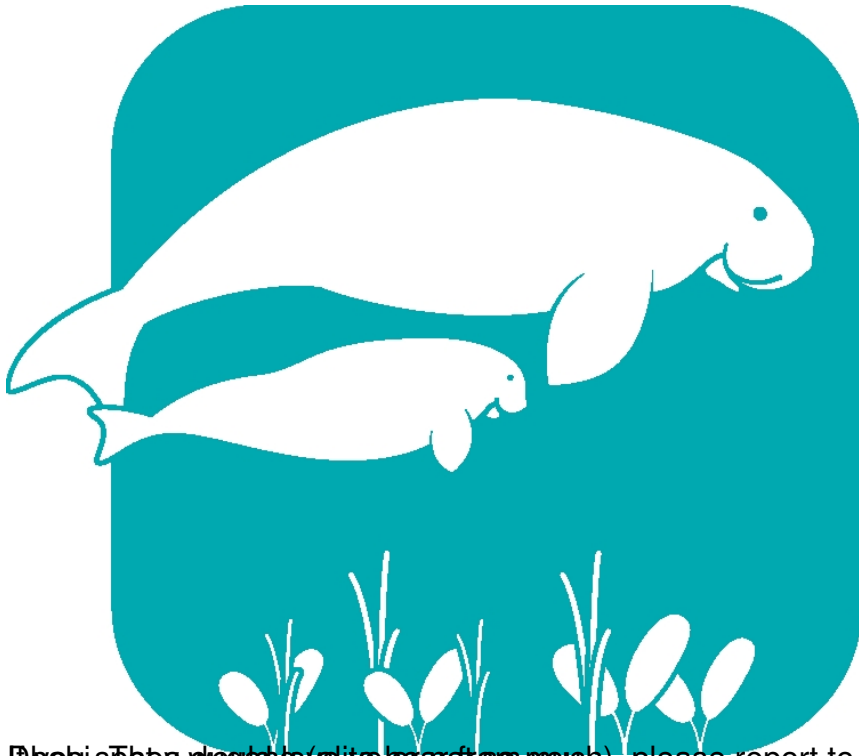

We would love to share this on behalf of UNEP CMS office...

We are delighted to be sharing the latest news and updates from the Dugong & Seagrass Conservation Project. Consisting of 38 initiatives implemented via 26 partner organisations in eight countries, this $5.88m project conserves tropical seagrass systems and the worlds only vegetarian marine mammal through science, policy, community incentives and outreach programmes.

July - January 2016 was a busy period for the project with the Project Coordination Team and Project partners working extremely hard to finalise and launch their initiatives.

The newsletter brings you a selection of the latest news from across the project.

Click here for the newsletter link

Dugong & Seagrass CONSERVATION PROJECT

If you see a dugong (alive or dead) or you hear a sound (such as a splash) please report to the Environment Agency of Abu Dhabi.