

Equipment Recall Notices

We would like to keep our divers up-to-date on scuba gear, watersports and accessories which have had a recall status recently. If you are not sure or have heard of any recalls which we have not listed recently, we would be more than happy to add the verified recall manufacturers' notices. Recall of scuba products are usually with a serial or product number and if you have the product number or serial numbers of a recalled product please notify us and we can verify this for you.

Recall notices are for everyone's safety and we take the notices and your safety seriously.

Happy and safe diving and paddling!!!
