

The Association's Objectives

EDA believes that divers can prove extremely utile in conserving the marine environment through observing, reporting and preventing environmental abuse.

EDA's Prime Objectives

To create an EDA Membership scheme; establish a database for all divers; provide benefits with relation to retailers and services; and produce a regular quarterly magazine.

To promote diver safety through education, standards and provision of facilities; EDA wishes to establish an emergency system for divers, including:

- Diving emergency procedures and contacts
- Dive accident treatment and the use of hyperbaric chamber facilities
- Seminars on safety and the use of chambers for divers and non-divers alike

- To offer local diving medical coverage in case the need arises

To promote and maintain the local diving heritage, and preserve the traditions and history of local pearl diving

To host talks, presentations, film shows, slide shows, school presentations, and interaction with other environmental groups.

To liaise with international diver training organizations and international diver safety organizations.

To liaise with other NGOs to ensure environmental collaboration and support.
